

AUGUST 2017 - ADVISORY COMMENTARY

THE MARKETS CONTINUED TO PUSH FORWARD IN JULY, WITH OUTSIZED GAINS IN MOST OF THE BROAD INDEXES. VOLATILITY ALSO CONTINUED TO DROP ACROSS THE BOARD AS WE'VE SEEN AN UNUSUAL AMOUNT OF CORRELATION BETWEEN MANY DIFFERENT ASSET TYPES.

THE GENERAL LEVEL OF EARNINGS REPORTS HAS BEEN WELL RECEIVED THIS SEASON, WITH ONE NOTABLE DIVERGENCE. COMPANIES THAT HAVE BEATEN THEIR EARNINGS ESTIMATES HAVE NOT BEEN REWARDED WITH HIGHER STOCK PERFORMANCE RELATIVE TO THE OVERALL MARKET, AS IS USUALLY THE CASE. WHILE IT MAY SOUND FOREBODING, THIS TYPE OF ACTIVITY HAS NOT BEEN SEEN SINCE THE LATE STAGES OF THE MARKET JUST PRECEDING THE TECHNOLOGY-LED MARKET CRASH OF 2000.

ANOTHER POTENTIAL SIGN OF MARKET DISRUPTION IS THE UNDERPERFORMANCE IN THE RUSSELL 2000 SMALL CAP STOCK INDEX. THIS TYPE OF MOVEMENT OFTEN PRECEDES THE BROADER MARKET LOWER, AS IT GENERALLY CONTAINS THE MORE AGGRESSIVE CATEGORY OF GROWTH STOCKS THAT LEAD THE MARKETS HIGHER INSIDE OF A BULL MARKET RUN.

FROM A TECHNICAL STANDPOINT, WE CONTINUE TO SEE A NEGATIVE DIVERGENCE IN THE NUMBER OF STOCKS THAT ARE PUSHING THE BROAD INDEXES HIGHER. IN THE HEALTHIEST OF CIRCUMSTANCES, WE WOULD LIKE TO SEE BROAD PARTICIPATION FROM A LARGE CATEGORY OF STOCKS AND INDUSTRIES MOVING THE MARKET HIGHER. THIS MEASUREMENT CONTINUES TO SHOW TROUBLE BELOW THE WATER. IT COULD BE TELLING US THAT THE MARKET'S RUN UP IS LOSING SOME OF ITS STEAM.

SINCERELY,

BRIAN WECKMAN, RFC

The Standard & Poor's 500 Index is a capitalization-weighted index of 500 stocks designed to measure performance of the broad domestic economy through changes in the aggregate market value of 500 stocks representing all major industries.

Dow Jones Industrial Average is the most widely used indicator of the overall condition of the stock market, a price-weighted average of 30 actively traded blue chip stocks, primarily industrials. The 30 stocks are chosen by the editors of the Wall Street Journal. The Dow is computed using a price-weighted indexing system, rather than the more common market cap-weighted indexing system.

The NASDAQ Global Market Composite consists of 1,450 stocks that meet NASDAQ's strict financial and liquidity requirements, and corporate governance standards. The Global Market Composite is less exclusive than the Global Select Market Composite.

The Russell 3000 Index is a market capitalization weighted equity index maintained by the Russell Investment Group that seeks to be a benchmark of the entire U.S. stock market. More specifically, this index encompasses the 3,000 largest U.S.-traded stocks, in which the underlying companies are all incorporated in the U.S.

The CBOE SPX Market Volatility Index shows the market's expectation of 30-day volatility. It is constructed using the implied volatilities of a wide range of S&P 500 index options. This volatility is meant to be forward looking and is calculated from both calls and puts. The VIX is a widely used measure of market risk and is often referred to as the "investor fear gauge."

The Barclays US Aggregate Bond Index is a broad-based flagship benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar-denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, MBS (agency fixed-rate and hybrid ARM pass-throughs), ABS and CMBS (agency and non-agency).

The Barclays US Treasury Bond Index measures the performance of U.S. Treasury securities that have a remaining maturity of at least seven years and less than 10 years.

The S&P GSCI is recognized as a leading measure of general price movements and inflation in the world economy. The index – representing market beta – is world-production weighted. It is designed to be investable by including the most liquid commodity futures, and provides diversification with low correlations to other asset classes.

The GSCI West Texas Intermediate Excess Return Index reflects the returns that are potentially available through an unleveraged investment in the West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude oil futures contract plus the Treasury Bill rate of interest that could be earned on funds committed to the trading of the underlying contracts.

The U.S. Dollar Index is a measure of the value of the U.S. dollar relative to majority of its most significant trading partners. This index is similar to other trade-weighted indexes, which also use the exchange rates from the same major currencies.

Gold Spot refers to the price paid for current delivery of 1 ounce of physical gold.

The Dow Jones Composite REIT Index contains all publicly traded U.S. REITs in the S&P Dow Jones Indices U.S. stock universe that are classified into one of three subcategories—equity, mortgage or hybrid—as defined by the REIT/RESI Industry Classification Hierarchy.

The CBOE S&P 500 BuyWrite Index (BXM) is a benchmark index designed to track the performance of a hypothetical buy-write strategy on the S&P 500 Index.
