

OCTOBER 2015 - ADVISORY COMMENTARY

SEPTEMBER PROVED TO BE ANOTHER DOWN MONTH FOR MOST MARKET SECTORS ACROSS THE BOARD. THE FEDERAL RESERVE CHOSE NOT TO BEGIN RAISING RATES AT THEIR SEPTEMBER MEETING, WHICH ADDED CONTINUED UNCERTAINTY TO THE MARKET'S DIRECTION. THE BOND MARKET TOOK THE NEWS POSITIVELY, AS A SIGN OF A LONGER PERIOD OF LOW RATES THAT WILL SUPPORT BOND PRICES.

ALTHOUGH THE FED CITED RECENT MARKET & ECONOMIC TURMOIL AROUND THE GLOBE AS A REASON TO HOLD OFF THE BEGINNING OF AN INTEREST RATE RISE, WE ALONG WITH MANY OTHER MARKET PARTICIPANTS, CONTINUE TO WONDER WHAT THE COUNTERFACTUAL OF THIS LOW INTEREST RATE ENVIRONMENT WOULD BE. COULD IT BE THAT THE MARKETS ARE BEING HARMED BY THIS "LOWER FOR LONGER" OUTLOOK BY THE FED? WHILE WE UNDERSTAND THE BARE LOGIC OF THE LOW-RATE RATIONALE, THE UNPRECEDENTED TROUBLE THAT THIS HAS CAUSED FOR SAVERS AND THOSE DEPENDENT ON FIXED INTEREST PAYMENTS OVER THE PAST SEVEN YEARS MAY NEVER BE FULLY KNOWN.

THE S&P 500 INDEX IS NOW DOWN 6.74% FOR THE YEAR. WHILE THIS PULLBACK IS A NEGATIVE FOR MOST INVESTORS, WE ARE NOW BEGINNING TO SEE OPPORTUNITIES POP UP IN CERTAIN EQUITY SECTORS THAT WE HAVE NOT SEEN IN A WHILE. THE UPCOMING EARNINGS SEASON WILL LIKELY BE A NEGATIVE ONE, GIVEN THAT MOST ESTIMATES ARE CALLING FOR A ROUGHLY 4% DROP IN YEAR OVER YEAR EARNINGS FOR S&P COMPANIES. AGAINST THIS BACKDROP, CAUTION SHOULD LIKELY PREVAIL OVER AGGRESSIVENESS.

OCTOBER HAS TRADITIONALLY BEEN THE MONTH THAT HAS SEEN BEAR MARKETS END, BUT IT HAS ALSO SEEN SOME OF THE MOST DRAMATIC MARKET CRASHES IN HISTORY. IF WHAT WE'VE EXPERIENCED OVER THE PAST SEVERAL MONTHS IS MERELY A MUCH NEEDED PULLBACK, WE COULD SEE A BETTER FOURTH QUARTER LIFT MARKETS BACK INTO POSITIVE TERRITORY FOR THE YEAR.

SINCERELY,

The Standard & Poor's 500 Index is a capitalization-weighted index of 500 stocks designed to measure performance of the broad domestic economy through changes in the aggregate market value of 500 stocks representing all major industries.

Dow Jones Industrial Average is the most widely used indicator of the overall condition of the stock market, a price-weighted average of 30 actively traded blue chip stocks, primarily industrials. The 30 stocks are chosen by the editors of the Wall Street Journal. The Dow is computed using a price-weighted indexing system, rather than the more common market cap-weighted indexing system.

The NASDAQ Global Market Composite consists of 1,450 stocks that meet NASDAQ's strict financial and liquidity requirements, and corporate governance standards. The Global Market Composite is less exclusive than the Global Select Market Composite.

The Russell 3000 Index is a market capitalization weighted equity index maintained by the Russell Investment Group that seeks to be a benchmark of the entire U.S. stock market. More specifically, this index encompasses the 3,000 largest U.S.-traded stocks, in which the underlying companies are all incorporated in the U.S.

The CBOE SPX Market Volatility Index shows the market's expectation of 30-day volatility. It is constructed using the implied volatilities of a wide range of S&P 500 index options. This volatility is meant to be forward looking and is calculated from both calls and puts. The VIX is a widely used measure of market risk and is often referred to as the "investor fear gauge."

The Barclays US Aggregate Bond Index is a broad-based flagship benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar-denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, MBS (agency fixed-rate and hybrid ARM pass-throughs), ABS and CMBS (agency and non-agency).

The Barclays US 7-10 Year Treasury Bond Index measures the performance of U.S. Treasury securities that have a remaining maturity of at least seven years and less than 10 years.

The S&P GSCI is recognized as a leading measure of general price movements and inflation in the world economy. The index – representing market beta – is world-production weighted. It is designed to be investable by including the most liquid commodity futures, and provides diversification with low correlations to other asset classes.

The GSCI West Texas Intermediate Excess Return Index reflects the returns that are potentially available through an unleveraged investment in the West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude oil futures contract plus the Treasury Bill rate of interest that could be earned on funds committed to the trading of the underlying contracts.

The U.S. Dollar Index is a measure of the value of the U.S. dollar relative to majority of its most significant trading partners. This index is similar to other trade-weighted indexes, which also use the exchange rates from the same major currencies.

Gold Spot refers to the price paid for current delivery of 1 ounce of physical gold.

The Dow Jones Composite REIT Index contains all publicly traded U.S. REITs in the S&P Dow Jones Indices U.S. stock universe that are classified into one of three subcategories—equity, mortgage or hybrid—as defined by the REIT/RESI Industry Classification Hierarchy.

The CBOE S&P 500 BuyWrite Index (BXM) is a benchmark index designed to track the performance of a hypothetical buy-write strategy on the S&P 500 Index.
