

MARCH 2016 - ADVISORY COMMENTARY

THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY WAS ONE OF THE CALMEST MONTHS WE'VE SEEN IN A WHILE, WITH THE S&P 500 AND RUSSELL 3000 BOTH FINISHING ONLY SLIGHTLY RED FOR THE MONTH. THIS IS OFFICIALLY THE FIRST THREE-MONTH LOSING STREAK SINCE LATE 2011. THIS IS THE FIRST TIME THAT DECEMBER, JANUARY, AND FEBRUARY ALL SAW CONSECUTIVE DROPS SINCE 2008. LOOKING AT HISTORY, THIS IS ONLY THE SIXTH TIME SINCE 1950 THAT THOSE THREE HISTORICALLY BULLISH MONTHS WERE ALL LOWER. THE AVERAGE RETURNS THE REST OF THE YEAR AFTER THIS HAPPENS IS 4.9% WITH A 6.5% MEDIAN RETURN. FEBRUARY MIGHT NOT HAVE FINISHED GREEN FOR THE MONTH, BUT IT DID CLOSE MORE THAN 6% OFF ITS LOWS NEAR THE MIDDLE OF THE MONTH. STRANGELY ENOUGH, WHEN YOU CONSIDER JANUARY DID THE SAME THING, THIS IS THE FIRST TIME TWO CONSECUTIVE MONTHS CLOSED MORE THAN 6% OFF THEIR MONTHLY LOWS SINCE OCTOBER AND NOVEMBER 2011.

EARNINGS SEASON FINISHED UP WITH MORE OF THE SAME MILDLY NEGATIVE TO MILDLY POSITIVE NEWS. NO IMMEDIATE CATALYST SEEMS TO BE ON THE HORIZON TO LIFT CORPORATE SENTIMENT BACK INTO FULL GROWTH MODE, AS COMPANIES CONTINUE TO DEAL WITH THE STRONGER DOLLAR AND BOTH DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC WEAKNESS.

AT THIS POINT, WE SEEM TO BE IN A BIT OF A NO-MAN'S LAND OF WEAKER (BUT NOT TERRIBLE) GROWTH INDICATORS AND LOWER (BUT NOT NONE) CENTRAL BANK STIMULUS AND CURRENCY INTERVENTION. WHILE VOLATILITY HAS DAMPENED A BIT, WE'LL CONTINUE TO WAIT AND SEE IF THE MARKETS CAN TURN OVER A NEW LEAF AND REGAIN A MORE GROWTH-ORIENTED FOOTING.

OF COURSE, WITH ELECTION SEASON NOW IN FULL-SWING, WE WILL SOON HAVE AN ENTIRELY NEW VARIABLE TO CONSIDER IN OUR INVESTMENT DECISIONS...

SINCERELY,

The Standard & Poor's 500 Index is a capitalization-weighted index of 500 stocks designed to measure performance of the broad domestic economy through changes in the aggregate market value of 500 stocks representing all major industries.

Dow Jones Industrial Average is the most widely used indicator of the overall condition of the stock market, a price-weighted average of 30 actively traded blue chip stocks, primarily industrials. The 30 stocks are chosen by the editors of the Wall Street Journal. The Dow is computed using a price-weighted indexing system, rather than the more common market cap-weighted indexing system.

The NASDAQ Global Market Composite consists of 1,450 stocks that meet NASDAQ's strict financial and liquidity requirements, and corporate governance standards. The Global Market Composite is less exclusive than the Global Select Market Composite.

The Russell 3000 Index is a market capitalization weighted equity index maintained by the Russell Investment Group that seeks to be a benchmark of the entire U.S. stock market. More specifically, this index encompasses the 3,000 largest U.S.-traded stocks, in which the underlying companies are all incorporated in the U.S.

The CBOE SPX Market Volatility Index shows the market's expectation of 30-day volatility. It is constructed using the implied volatilities of a wide range of S&P 500 index options. This volatility is meant to be forward looking and is calculated from both calls and puts. The VIX is a widely used measure of market risk and is often referred to as the "investor fear gauge."

The Barclays US Aggregate Bond Index is a broad-based flagship benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar-denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, MBS (agency fixed-rate and hybrid ARM pass-throughs), ABS and CMBS (agency and non-agency).

The Barclays US 7-10 Year Treasury Bond Index measures the performance of U.S. Treasury securities that have a remaining maturity of at least seven years and less than 10 years.

The S&P GSCI is recognized as a leading measure of general price movements and inflation in the world economy. The index – representing market beta – is world-production weighted. It is designed to be investable by including the most liquid commodity futures, and provides diversification with low correlations to other asset classes.

The GSCI West Texas Intermediate Excess Return Index reflects the returns that are potentially available through an unleveraged investment in the West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude oil futures contract plus the Treasury Bill rate of interest that could be earned on funds committed to the trading of the underlying contracts.

The U.S. Dollar Index is a measure of the value of the U.S. dollar relative to majority of its most significant trading partners. This index is similar to other trade-weighted indexes, which also use the exchange rates from the same major currencies.

Gold Spot refers to the price paid for current delivery of 1 ounce of physical gold.

The Dow Jones Composite REIT Index contains all publicly traded U.S. REITs in the S&P Dow Jones Indices U.S. stock universe that are classified into one of three subcategories—equity, mortgage or hybrid—as defined by the REIT/RESI Industry Classification Hierarchy.

The CBOE S&P 500 BuyWrite Index (BXM) is a benchmark index designed to track the performance of a hypothetical buy-write strategy on the S&P 500 Index.
